Call for papers

The purpose

The purpose of the 25th International Scientific Conference CORPORATE GOVERNMENT — THEORY AND PRACTICE is to exchange knowledge and experience between the researchers and business entities in the field of improving solutions to economic, technological, organizational, regulatory and environmental problems in the management of both enterprises and the economy as a whole. The dynamically changing economic environment in which enterprises operate forces them to look for innovative solutions in the entire value chain — from raw material acquisition to waste disposal and management. Constantly emerging challenges require extensive knowledge and extensive cooperation between actors within interdisciplinary teams. We hope that the conference will contribute not only to strengthening cooperation between science and business (e.g. in the form of developing joint projects), but will also be an opportunity to establish contacts aimed at stimulating innovation and entrepreneurship. Therefore, the proposed thematic blocks are organized jointly by scientists and economic practitioners. The conference is hoped to contribute not only to closer cooperation between science and business (e.g. in the form of developing joint projects), but will also be an opportunity to establish contacts aimed at stimulating innovation and entrepreneurship. Therefore, the proposed thematic blocks are organized jointly by scientists and economic practitioners.
